Bethany.

OLD MAIN — Work was begun on this building in 1858, but was not completed until the 1870's, due to the intervention of the Civil War. It was constructed to replace the original building which had been destroyed by fire in 1857.

“Men, and not men.”

Alexander Campbell

Just over hillside and around the next bend is Bethany. Over the years Bethany has come to mean many different things.

After making a critical study of the academic program at Bethany, a prominent educator, in 1939, declared: “Here is a small college of unusual distinction and merit.” Comments like that have come from various persons who have come to know Old Bethany.

OGLEBAY GATES — The main entrance to the college has always centered around the gates and the pillars add a dignity to the hillside. Freshmen in the past became acquainted with this entrance early in the year, during Hazing, they were forbidden to walk down the steps or through the archways. The seniors would hold their annual "step sing" there, also. Adding to tradition, the gates were opened when final examinations were being given "on the hill." This was supposed to let the "ponies" through. They were closed at all other times.

PENDLETON HEIGHTS — In 1841 William Pendleton built the house on “the Hill” to serve as a home for future presidents.

Bethany has a heritage deep and rich with meaning. It is old mixing new — generations passing in between. It is exams and cramming and homework, the Gates and the President’s home on the hill. It is friends, football games and dances, classes graduating and the memories they take with them. It is all this and more. An Old Main where hundreds have walked, a Tower sticking up high enough to be seen for miles around, a town and 140 years of tradition. It is all this . . .

The Falls of Bethany, somewhere in the woods behind the Heights.

CAMPBELL HALL — Campbell was first built to provide housing for 100 men. It was dedicated on April 4, 1956.

BETHANY HOUSE — In 1941 the building known as the Bethany House was completed. It was the new eating place for freshman men. It was also only the lower part of the building, as we know it now. The upper part of the building was completed in 1948. At the time it contained the Bee Hive, men's dining hall, lounge and meeting rooms.

The passing of time leaves a wake of passing events. They are not lost for memory follows time and picks them up.

Freshman Hazing in 1961 — Hazing was traditional on college campuses because it too oriented freshmen to college life.

Hazing began in the Beehive, the freshmen received their handbooks, nick-names, beanies and demerit books. When Tribunal Night finally came, the girls went to Irvin Gym, where they performed exercises. The boys were outside doing calisthenics on the lawn, while all sorts of debris was thrown at them.

The Moo Moo Moo was organized in 1923 as a honorary pep organization for the purpose of maintaining college spirit.

COLLEGE INN — In 1961, the College Inn was a colorful establishment just beyond Chamber's. It was a store with a pinball machine.

COLLEGE BOOK STORE — In 1961 occupying the same building as the town's only federal institution, was the College Bookstore. We now know this building as the home of Bubba's Bison Inn.

SIGMA NU's BOWERY BRAWL — Although not too many beards appeared on the faces of the Sigma Nus this year, we know the annual Bowery Brawl is at least a 50 year-old tradition. Here are some Sigs in 1963, at the brawl.

President Bullard

Bethany College welcomed Todd H. Bullard as her 15th president this year. He succeeded Robert Sandercox, who served as interim president during the past year.

A native of Wheeling, Bullard attended Bethany College and West Liberty State College as an undergraduate, he received his master's and doctorate degrees in political science from West Virginia University and University of Pittsburgh, respectively.

Bullard came to Bethany after serving ten years as Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs at Rochester Institute of Technology. He was also president of Potomac State College from 1964 to 1970.

COMMENCEMENT 1981

This photograph, used as part of the 1981 Commencement program cover, was taken by Kim Ravenda, Class of '81, in the archway in Old Main. In the photo are Miss Ravenda and Win Halkyard, also a member of the Class of 1981. Kim and Win were co-editors of the 1980 Bethanian. The 1981 Bethanian staff thanks both Kim and Win for their valuable assistance with the 1981 book.

BID DAY

The Sigs welcome their new pledges with handshakes and tackles.

All-right just as I figured!

Representatives of various Greek Organizations

For some people, Friday, Feb. 13, turned out to be lucky this month. This year's Bid Day was marked by the traditional run to the house, box lunches, and beer. Fraternity and sorority houses opened at 7 p.m. and the campus rolled as both Greeks and Non-Greeks celebrated the day.

The crowning of senior Faith Wooten highlighted 1980 Homecoming festivities. The Iron City House Rockers kicked off the weekend with a concert in the Field House. Although spirits were dampened by a loss against Carnegie Mellon for the field hockey team, they began to rise as the soccer team defeated CMU. The Bisons carried this trend into Saturday's football match against Thiel. Bethany was victorious in a 39-21 match. Half time featured the homecoming court; Kim Ravenda, Kathy Talley, Cindy Klumpp, Linda Keale and the queen.

The Bethany Bisons, 1980 PAC Champs, give Coach Ault a triumphant ride to the field house.

"It's Perry Gresham Day!"

April 18 was designated as this spring's annual Perry Gresham Day, a day held to honor Dr. Perry Gresham, president emeritus of Bethany College. As in previous years, Perry Gresham day featured a parade down the middle of town on Main Street, with "King Perry" and wife, Aleece, in the lead car. Librarian Wes Loder made an appearance, accompanying the parade with his bagpipes. Campbell seniors were chosen honorary queens.

This year's Greek Sing presentation was held in conjunction with Bethany's Parent's Weekend and Bethany's annual Spring Weekend. Members of the Phi Kappa Tau and Phi Mu houses won the Sing competition. Though small in number, members of the Sigma Nu fraternity put on a good show but, once again, ran a close second.

Activities for the Spring Weekend included three musical concerts, Dave Mason being the star attraction for a Saturday night performance.

Sports

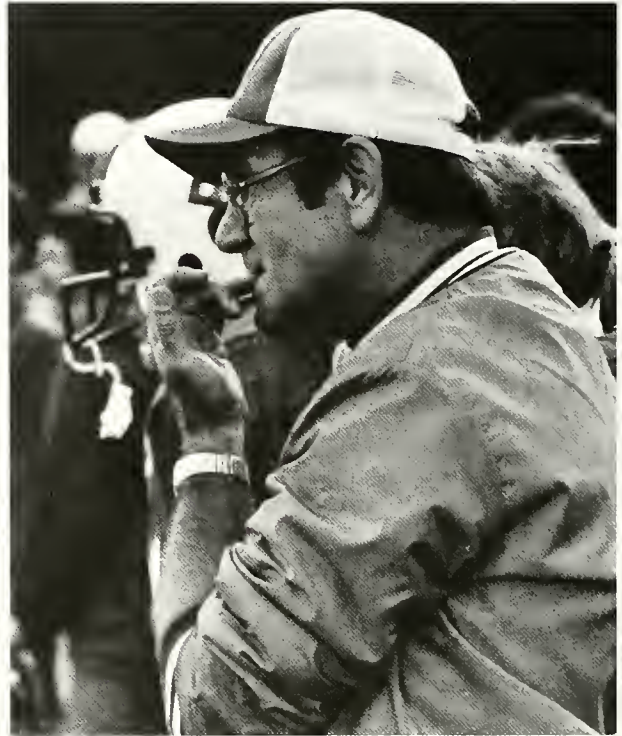

FOOTBALL

This year the Bethany Bison football Team made history. This was the first time in Bethany's history that the football team concluded the regular season with an unblemished 9-0 record. The undefeated season entitled the Bisons to the Presidents' Athletic Conference crown and an invitation to the NCAA Division III playoffs.

Many factors contributed to the success of this year's team. Probably the most important ones were the great team attitude, spirit and effort put forth at each practice and game. Behind every successful organization is a group of hard-working executives. Such was the case of the Bisons.

The Bethany coaching staff spent many late nights preparing the offensive and defensive strategies which would enable the team to overcome the opponent for that week.

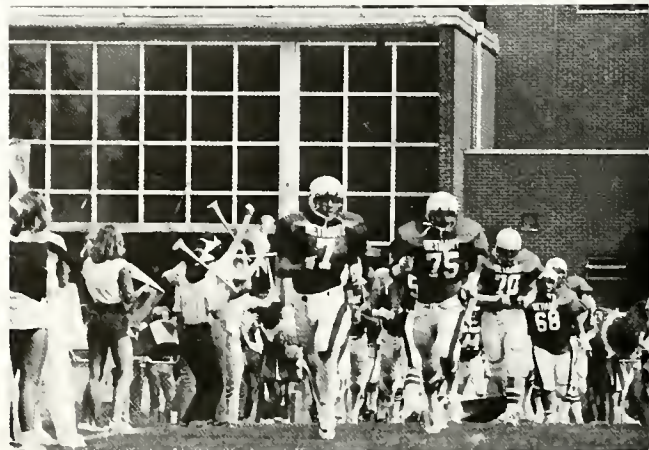

The tremendous efforts of the coaching staff was imperative to the success of the team. With the combination of these team traits it was almost inevitable from the start of the season that history was in the making.

The 1980 soccer team felt it was one of the best NCAA Division III schools in the country, and proved it with an 11-3-1 record.

The team received its first-ever NCAA bid to compete in the Division III Regional Playoffs.

The soccer season ended with a 2-1 loss to Ohio Wesleyan University in the first round of the playoffs. For five seniors, it was the end of four years of hard work: Captain Dave Shapiro, Greg Hammarén, Russ Onofrio, Rich Roccon and Mark Eckert. The team felt it could not have made it as far as it did without its valuable seniors.

Coaches for the 1980 soccer team were John Cunningham, Graham Ramsey and Jim Reagan. Next year's team should do equally well with the support of its outstanding underclass members.

The women's tennis team looks forward to a good season next year with its returning members and new recruits. The team will be losing two seniors, first singles, captain Cindy Marks and first doubles. Teryl Berriman. The team ended the season by finishing second in the P.W.C. tournament although their final season record was 2-9.

First year coach Mary Ellen Fiske plans the match strategy.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Bethany Cross Country Team finished the season with a 9-2 record. In the PAC finals the team earned second place. Alex Ken led the team with a fine 5th place performance, earning First Team All-PAC honors.

Freshman Phil Krasinski captured 14th place in the PAC finals. Others top finishers were Marty Maag, 16th; Mark Swiger, 17th; Ray McCarthy, 21st; Dan DiChristina, 23rd; and Barry Calvert, 32nd.

Ray McCarthy leads the pack.

CROSS COUNTRY

WOMEN'S FIELD HOCKEY

The 1980 Bethany College Field Hockey season proved to be one of building and challenge. After having one of their key starters leave school, the women faced a new player formation, unfamiliar positions and, most of all, improved competition. The Bisons faced non-division teams such as University of Pittsburgh and Davis and Elkins University. The only other Division III team in West Virginia, West Virginia Wesleyan, defeated the Bisons twice to go on for divisional play-offs. But in the conference, the Bethany Field Hockey Team presided, ending the season with a 6-1 record in the conference, and a tie with Carnegie Mellon. The Bisons went on to beat CMU on a neutral field, to win the conference title for the fourth year in a row by a score of 4-2. The overall record for the season was 7-6.

For the 1980 season, senior Jae Titus and junior LeeAnn Paquette were co-captains. All conference members selected by the coaches of the teams were Kim Borelli, LeeAnn Paquette, Lauren McKinnon and Eileen Reading.

 Second Row: Cathy Craft, Eileen Reading, Judy Montgomery, Mamie Caldwell, Mary Mazero, Joanna Hobbs
 Third Row: Kathy Talley, Carol Koelner, Julie Davis, Sally Shiegocki, Sue Sniegocki, Pam Valentine

The Volleyball team won its second consecutive Pennwood West Conference Championship. The team ended its season with a 10-5 record overall, and a 7-3 record in conference play.

For Sally Dorwart it was the best season she had coached at Bethany. For four seniors, Diane Pfeil, Soni Maxwell, Connie Carpenter, and Kathy Talley, the championship was a nice way to end their last season.

Diane Pfeil was voted most valuable player this year by the team. Even though she had received this honor for the past two years, it meant more this year because the team voted their own M.V.P. instead of the coach.

The 1980-81 edition of the Bethany Bison basketball team got off on the wrong foot at the beginning of its season, losing its first seven games before tasting victory. The Bison cagers finished the campaign with an 11-10 mark, but 8-4 and a second-place finish behind Allegheny in the Presidents' Athletic Conference.

The season was highlighted by Fred Gongola's 1,000th point in a Bison uniform. The goal was achieved near the end of the Feb. 19 contest against Thiel. Gongola was the team's leading scorer through the season, but was followed very closely by Jim Paige, who shot the team's best percentage. The 1981-82 season could best be forecasted as a "rebuilding year," as six Bison stars will be graduated in May, and head coach Jim Dafler will be hard-pressed to replace them.

Women's Basketball

Terry Swinehart grabs a rebound

It was a year of education and experience for the Bethany women's basketball team. The women hoopers finished the season with a record of 0-15 and last place in the Pennwood West Conference. A number of injuries to key players hurt the Bisons, forcing experience on younger members of the team.

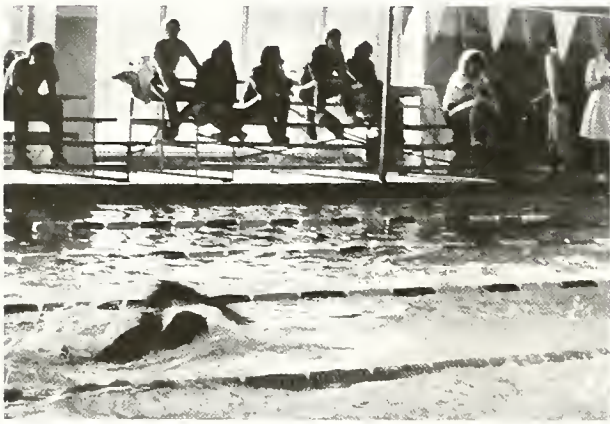

Carol Koellner and Eileen Reading were both injured for the majority of the season, but Terry Swinehart and the Celona sisters, Alison and Laurie, picked up the slack. Sue Carse, a junior, did well in her first year of competition since high school. Coach Mary Ellen Fiske has already been preparing for next year's squad, recruiting players in search of desperately-needed height.

Despite the losing record, the team still found time for fun. After all, it's not every night your van gets a flat tire, and your team makes an away game with five minutes to spare by hitching a ride on a pickup truck!

Judy Flynn pulls in search of victory

The swim team ended its 1-6 season with a splash at the PAC Championships at John Carroll University. Captain Andy Clark finished sixth in both the 100- and 200-yard butterfly events. His 100-yard time of 54.9 seconds was just tenths of a second short of breaking the school record. Freshman sprinter John Belt finished 12th in the 100-yard free-style event. The divers contributed a majority of the team's points throughout the season. Sophomore Sean Keller finished ninth and tenth in 3-meter diving. Freshman Pedro Cuesta did equally well in the PAC's, finishing eighth and ninth in the 1 and 3-meter competitions.

The young team, under the instruction of a new coach, John McGowan, was hampered by injuries throughout the season, and personal achievements stood out rather than team successes. The team also lacked depth, but next year will be the year to look at with incoming freshman recruits and a more experienced team.

Highlighting the year was the 24-hour swim-a-thon and a trip to Ft. Lauderdale. The team will always remember the 1980-81 season by ... celebrate ... halluciousness ... getting out-of-hand ... n.f.w ... morning practices ... Bumper ... "we're nice" ... lawn furniture and bonfires ... 30 quarts ... Frank on the steps ... Anne, Jude and Sheila meet the British Navy ... battle of the boxes ... Dobson, N.C ... High-elbow parties ... Rain turned out to be the Bethany men's baseball team's toughest competition during the 1891 campaign.

The Bisons finished the season with a 6-12 record overall, only 2-8 in the President's Athletic Conference. Their record put them in the next-to-last position in the Conference final standings.

The team was forced to make up several rained-out contests in the last few days of the season, preventing top pitchers Ed Monahan and Dave Wilhelm from getting proper rest.

First baseman Tom Reabe and outfielder Gary

Frankhouser hit well during the season, and Dave McCaughey turned in excellent performances behind the plate as a freshman.

Although first-year coach Andy Kowalo had doubts about his returning for the 1982, he enjoyed coaching the team and had expressed hope for "another shot."

With the help of midnight checks on the coach, forgetting to bring the equipment to away games, and the team captain losing games by hitting foul balls, the team enjoyed a learning year.

Track

A very successful 1891 track season ended with a bang this spring as the Bison thincalds, 7-3 regular season finisher, traveled to Pitt at the end of the season and set four Bethany College records.

Co-captain Dave Blaner, Marty Maag, Phil Krasinski and Ray McCarthy all set Bethany records: Blaner in the intermediate hurdles, Maag in the 800, Krasinski in the 5,000 and 10,000 and "Cool Ray" McCarthy in the 1,500.

Co-Captain Jeff Lampson and Bill Almasy also established records this season, in the discus and high hurdles, respectively.

The team also finished third in the Presidents' Athletic Conference championship meet this season, behind Carnegie-Mellon and Allegheny.

The team was a bit more successful than most fans had expected, and good times lie ahead: few of the team members will be graduated in the May, and the team will have many star performers returning for action next year.

Tennis

The 1981 Bethany men's tennis season did not end this spring exactly as well as it began in March. The team started the season with a victory over the College of Boca Raton during their trip to Florida. Their homecourt: Boca West. Unfortunately, the netters had to return, and finished the season with a 4-8 record overall, 1-6 in the Presidents' Athletic Conference, and a sixth-place finish in the Conference championships. Under the guidance of Coach Joe Kurey and Assistant Ken Zirm, the team finished in a tie with Hiram College in the championships, as Jimmy Paige and the doubles team of Ted deSelding and Dan Miller were the only ones to post victories in the competition. One thing the Bison netters did have was youth: they will have a number of this year's participants returning for action next spring.

Golf

The Bethany Golf team improved greatly this season, finishing with a 4-6 record in the Presidents' Athletic Conference. The Bisons finished in seventh place in the Conference championships, but the competition was closer than the score indicated: a mere eight strokes separated the fourth-, fifth-, sixth- and seventh-place teams.

Bethany had youth going for them. Freshmen Tim Hume and Dave Keon shot well, and sophomore Bill Adkins improved his game considerably. The Bisons will lose no one this year, and the future of Bethany golf looks promising.

Softball

Second row: Soni Maxwell, Carol Koellner, Judy Montgomery, Beth Mitchell, Alison Celona, Connie Carpenter, Laurie Celona. Third row: Terry Swinehart, Cathy Craft, Eileen Reading, Dawna Reed, Molly Deem, Diane Lund, Becky Yurek, Karen McVey.

"Missed that fastball again!"

The Bethany women's softball team successfully defended its Pennwood West Conference title this season by winning the conference once again, and finishing with an 8-8 overall record as well.

Ace pitcher Terry Swinehart led the pitching staff with a 6-4 record. Top hitters for the squad were shortstop Cathy Craft, centerfielder Eileen Reading and catcher Diane Pfeil.

The Bisons look good to repeat next season, as they will lose only four players through graduation this spring. Seniors Cindy Marks, Connie Carpenter, Soni Maxwell and Pfeil will all be graduated this May.

Coach Sally Dorwart is also anticipating another PWC championship during the 1982 campaign.

Lacrosse

The Bethany men's lacrosse team went through a "transitional" year this season, experiencing a change of advisors and a final record that didn't stand up to recent Bethany lacrosse standards. The squad finished the year with a 5-6 mark and fourth place in the Allegheny Lacrosse League. Top players included Bill Frechette, Tom Taylor, John DeNatale, John "Beaver" Kleehammer and

A scramble for the ball

Dave Wittek. Tom Bosworth, one of last year's stars, was injured in the first part of the season, and didn't see much action for the remainder.

The season's performance could be attributed to lack of a good attitude, but the team was young, and many star players are expected to compete again next year.

... Hey, a guy called while you were out ... Can we talk? ... candles, incense, and Christmas Formal ... the Amber Room ... and mistletoe ... pining circles ... and White Rose dinner ... Paddle parties and poems ... little brothers ... Punk Out! ... It's cosmic ... but ... should I knock first? ... The girls on the hill are at it again ... closeness ... long night talks ... and sisterly love ... and of course ... always ... A.O.T.

What went on at Circle-Stick-M? Well, we'll tell you . . . The year began with the usual rounds of parties and Homecoming festivities. "We're having a party" was one of our favorite expressions; we went Mexican, hippie, punk, to the beach, and we togaed to all hours of the night when we could get enough bucks for kegs.

Thievery abounded; a loving cup found its way to the Phi Mu house. Cattle crossing signs graced our walls and Santa was hanged from our balcony. Road trips, Chinese lunches, no-pride nights, and looking for C. P. was common place along with unwelcomed visits by Ranger Danger.

This is not to say we didn't participate in sisterly activities . . . Bid Day brought us 15 pledges, and we welcomed two new mules into the heard in the fall.

Oh No! Not another sorority cheer

1980 saw a record number of pinning circles (two engagements). It also saw an unprecedented stream of "national ladies," especially one who couldn't tell the difference between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Winter found us celebrating at the Christmas Formal . . . welcoming back sisters from England . . . sliding down the hill . . . watching 10 of us take comps, three with distinction. Our resident Pointer Sisters sang "He's So Shy" at rush parties. We got "faced", said "Tell him No!" and then said "Hall-Light!"

Finally the Arctic winds went away and by the time we thawed out it was time for our Gresham Day Majorettes and Queens to march in the parade. We honored our many illustrious seniors at Steak and Bean Dinner, Rally Day and at graduation.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Well, WSAE had a brief career on the Bethany airwaves early in the year, I guess Point Breeze didn't like hearing "The Who" at 4 in the morning, age must do that to you. And social pro. Didn't cramp social life like it was supposed to; sorry T.B.

In the wee hours there were victories over abusive beer pong, seeds, grapes of wrath (puppie) and Bunburying for we were all too young to go to bed.

Lounge monkeys still awoke with rabbit-ears after late nights. Crackers were thrown, Obie was flashed and people were bummed at the monster mash.

I remember 30 seconds of silence for the desk that went flying over the hill along with anything else that wasn't needed anymore. We trumpeted the return of the little sisters and bid farewell to a large head fading in the sunset; Go West Young Head. But through it all we've learned that no, Virginia, there will never be a clean SAE house.

SIGMA NU

This May marks the graduation marks the graduation of the largest Sigma Nu class in recent years, and many brothers contributed significantly to Bethany. Ray Abby captained the champion Bison football team, and was joined on the defensive unit by Mike Distazio, Pri, Bettie, and Ubba-Chubba. The potent offense was centered around the backing of Buckethead, T.D. and Jaimie. "Beaming Bison" Natch caught passes, and was "CMU'S foe for four seconds to go." Maag and Swiger ran for the Harriers.

Vogues and Freddy G. led the Bison hoopers to a PAC second-place finish, but the latter took time to marry Margy, 1/23/81. Brother Craig and Randall the Vandal helped out too.

The fall went fairly well. Our clowns appeared for Homecoming, and in early December, everyone hopped aboard the Sigma Nu train for the Bowery Brawl. Then the kid's Xmas party, and Weave's pre-Santa activities.

The Spring went, but not as well, and Commander Moondog, though engaged, tried his best to lead us to that Promised Land. We picked up nine good pledges and a couple of fences on Bid Day, and Fuzzy tended the fire.

The Gongola brothers, Big G and Little O, formed the cornerstone infield combination for the baseball team, with the help of Tony Bisweety.

In all, it was a good year. After all, it isn't every year that a college president considers activating at your "Animal House".

WOOLERY

75 years old and going strong Homecoming weekend was made complete when Faith was crowned Queen. WORD! Who else was on the court again? The Zetas joined the SAE's with their annual Halloween Party. Where's the tap? Everyone worked hard with the Red Cross on their Blood Drive. Bruise much? Who's passing out now? Before the Christmas Party would you believe dinner for twelve? The exquisite main dish from Scarsdale was "Chicken are you done?" The dance was great from what we remember of it. Oh those Zetas!

Stir crazy in the barracks. Fun Overflow veranda morning, noon and night. Is that Margie skiing in her nightgown? Bid day blast; what a freshman class! 17 pledges . . . cream of the crop. Hey jokers, we have a new game . . . Foosball anyone?

Famous last words . . . Buck for a keg? Mixer? B.Y.O.S. Lisa D., a great actress in our midst. Who's Messy? . . . We know who Neat is. Pinning circles . . . It's about time Greg. Once, twice, three times a pinning circle for Queen of designers. Carol's engaged! REO with the "Goose". Little bro Pitts tsy . . . he's a loser . . . Listen sad dudes Zetas are Spring weekend bound . . . Yoadelly!

The year always comes to an end, but we never lose touch with our friends. Memories are one of the greatest gifts we can share with each other. "Ain't no stoppin' us now . . . we're on the move."

Commencement May 23, 1981 Old Main Quadrangle

This was Commencement, 1981, on the Old Main Quadrangle as the graduates and their families listened to the speaker, Judge Thomas Buergenthal, a Bethany graduate.

President Todd H. Bullard speaks to 181 members of the Class of '81 at Commencement May 23 on the Old Main Quadrangle.

At Commencement, it was announced that Gary Bergman, Phi Kappa Tau, had been named the fraternity's outstanding senior graduate — nationally. Here, Bergman is congratulated by his advisor, Gary Larson.

Marsha Core, a music major, received the Oreon E. Scott Award and is congratulated by Dean of the Faculty, Wm. Daniel Cobb. Her grade point average for the four years was 4.0208.

First graduates of Bethany to receive the Bachelor of Arts in Social Work paused after commencement with Dr. Lynn Adkins, left, and Paul Diss, right, instructors, to show off their diplomas. Receiving these first degrees were Jill Hager, Sherie Ryan, Michael Weaver, Catharine Dougherty, Camilla Johnson, Sandra Jones.

An alum, Thomas Buergenthal, Dean of the School of Law, American University, was speaker for the 1981 Commencement which was held for the first year in the past three years on the Old Main Quadrangle.

Buergenthal, who thanked Bethany for "all it had done for him," was awarded the honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Also awarded an honorary degree was Thomas Youngblood, San Antonio, Texas, Baccalaureate speaker. Youngblood was awarded the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree.

Another alumna, Linda Donelle Lewis, was awarded the honorary Doctor of Science degree, and Arthur Wells, Newell, W.Va., was given the Doctor of Humanities honorary degree.

One hundred eighty-one seniors marched across the Old Main Quadrangle to receive degrees.

Seniors file into Bethany Memorial Church for Baccalaureate. The graduates and faculty walked from Old Main to the church for the service.
